Sent to Clerk's Desk.

Fewer senators than usual were present when the session began at 11:30 o'clock. President Ellyson was in the chair. Quite a number of visitors occupied seats in the galleries. Mann law petitions, new bills and resolutions, came in under the call. Committee reports were brief, and the calendar was reached early, bringing up a number of Senate hills on their third reading. The much discussed Strode measure, on its engressment, providing that the judgment of a circuit or corporation court or other court of record in any action at law, requiring plaintiff to remit any part of recovery, may be subject of review by the Supreme Court of Appeals, was temporarily passed by.

Punish Incendiaries.

Punish Incendiaries.

Some discussion arose over the bill amending the Code in relation to the punishment of incendiaries who unlawfully and maliciously set fire to forests and woods in country districts. Several senators referred to the vast damage done in many sections by the forest fires, which sometimes cut a swath miles long and wide through the rural districts, destroying valuable timber, fences, crops, stables and even residences. The old law made the offense a misdemenator, and was entirely inadequate to prevent the fires, which were frequently the work of irresponsible negroes. The proposed change makes it discretionary with the jury whether the offense should be punished as a misdemeanor or as a felony, and imposes heavier penalties. The passage of this bill was demanded by land-owners in the rural districts, and its enactment is regarded as of the utmost importance as making possible the stamping out of an evil that has long afflicted many sections.

In the past two months it is estimated that at leagt from seventy-five to one hundred thousand dollars' worth of standing timber in Lunenburg has changed hands. A large portion of this timber was first handled by local speculators, and was purchased from them in small lumps by larger speculators, and wound up by being closed out to the Emporia Manufacturing Company, which controls a large portion of the timber here.

Drove Burglars Off,

(Special to The Times-Dispatch,)

SALISBURY, N. C., February 12.—
Shortly before midnight Mr. J. E. West, who sleeps in a room adjoining his storeroom, was awakened by a noise, and leaving his bed he detected a man in the store. He pulled down on the burglar, but the pistol snapped, and the man made his escape. Mr. West made an investigation and found that the burglar had effected an entrance by breaking a back window and unlocking the door, in which the key had been left. A second attempt was made to rob this store about 2 o'clock this morning, but as in the first instance, Mr. West drove the man off.
